MINUTES OF THE FACULTY SENATE MEETING OF

May 2, 2019

The meeting of the Faculty Senate took place Thursday, May 2, 2019, in room 201 of the Buckingham Center for Continuing Education. Senate Chair Linda Saliga called the meeting to order at 3:01 pm.

Of the current roster of 64 senators, 40 attended the meeting. Senators Broadway, Ferris, Hajjafar, Haritos, Hazlett, Mahajan, Roy and Seher were absent with notice. Senators Bean, Bible, Brown, Cargill, Chronister, Cole, Day, Espanol, Hauser, Hoge, Kandray, Kelly, Walker, Wang, Xi and Zheng were absent without notice.

I. Adoption of Agenda

On Senator Thornton’s motion, the agenda was adopted as amended by Chair Saliga without dissent.

II. Adoption of Minutes of the April 4th, 2019 Meeting

On Senator Nicholas’s motion, the minutes were adopted without dissent.

III. Remarks of the Chair

As the 2018-19 academic year draws to a close, I find myself reflecting on the last nine months. We started the year trying to come to grips with the program cuts attributed to last year’s academic program review. We developed three-year action plans. Reorganization was “discussed” twice. A new process for reviewing academic programs was implemented. We are in the process of searching for a new president. Academic units developed workload policies that are now in the Office of Academic Affairs. About half of the faculty were presented with a voluntary separation or retirement plan. The title “Provost” has been retired and we now have two executive vice presidents, considered to be equals, who are sharing the duties currently handled within the Office of Academic Affairs.

We, the faculty, started the year up in arms about what we viewed to be the lack of shared governance at the final stage of APR. Interim President Green and the faculty senate executive committee have had several conversations this year about shared governance; we are trying to come to an agreement about what version of shared governance will be used on our campus. Sending reports back and forth between the faculty and administration feels more like negotiations than consultative shared governance. To have true shared governance, actual conversations need to take place. We will be taking a step in that direction when Interim President Green, Interim Executive Vice President and Chief Academic Officer Midha, and Executive Vice President and Chief Administrative Officer Ramsier meet with the faculty senate executive committee to discuss the workload policies the deans delivered to OAA yesterday.

The refreshments today are to celebrate our last meeting here in BCCE. I thank all of you for the hard work you do here at UA and hope you have an enjoyable summer.

IV. Special Announcements

Dr. Hugo Lijerón Alberdi died on Sunday, March 31, 2019 at the age of 88.

Born May 6, 1930, in Bolivia, Hugo earned a law degree from San Xavier University and received a scholarship from the Spanish government to study international diplomacy in Madrid (1954). In 1956, Hugo joined his brother in the United States. He earned a master's degree from Middlebury College in Vermont and a Ph.D. in Hispanic Literature from the University of Madrid. Hugo taught at Williams College and was a visiting professor for the Peace Corps at Kent State University.

For 40 years, Hugo was a professor of Spanish at The University of Akron in Ohio. He specialized in 20th Century Latin American literature. While at Akron, he served as Chair of the Department of Modern Languages and was also Director of the Latin American Studies program. Hugo co-founded the Institute of Bolivian Studies to give a voice to young writers from his country. In 1985, Hugo was named Ohio's Most Outstanding University Professor by the Ohio Modern Language Teachers Association. In 2000, the year he retired as Professor Emeritus, Hugo received the Ohio Foreign Language Association's Community Service Award. His passion for Latin American and Hispanic culture inspired generations of teachers.

A gifted and humorous storyteller, Hugo loved international travel, music, and dancing. He was an enthusiastic weekend soccer player until the age of 70 and a dedicated fan until his last day.

James W. (Jim) Barnett, dean emeritus of the College of Business Administration and a UA alumnus, died April 4. He was 88.

The longtime Akron resident earned a BSBA here in 1954 and had a 46-year career with The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company — rising through the ranks to eventually become an executive vice-president.

After Barnett retired, he joined his alma mater in 1996 as the Global Business Executive in Residence in the College of Business Administration. He also held the title of director of the Institute for Global Business. Barnett went on to serve as dean of the college, retiring on Sept. 1, 2006.
Dr. Terry Lynn Balser Hallett, who retired as an associate professor of speech language pathology on June 1, 2018, died April 23. She was 67.

Hallett joined the University in August 2000 as an assistant professor in the School of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology. Her area of focus was child language development.

She earned a B.S. in 1974 and an M.A. in 1984 at Kent State University, both in Speech-Language Pathology, and a Ph.D. in Communication Disorders at The Pennsylvania State University in 1994. Prior to pursuing a doctorate, Hallett was a clinical speech pathologist in the Trumbull County Schools for 15 years.

Since retiring, Hallett continued to teach here part time as a senior lecturer.

V. Report of the Executive Committee

The Executive Committee met twice since the last regular meeting. April's monthly meeting with upper administration was canceled.

On April 22, we discussed the new leadership structure announced by the Board of Trustees.

On April 25, we met to prepare the agenda for the May Senate meeting and to certify elections.

This concludes my report.

VI. Remarks of the Interim President

Interim President Green thanked the body for their hard work. He mentioned yesterday marked his one-year anniversary. He hoped not to celebrate a second since the presidential search was going very well, even though the president may not be in office until January.

He briefed the body on the Board of Trustees decision to replace the provost with two executive vice presidents. He referred to BOT resolutions passed in December. When the resolution was passed, a search was begun but later suspended due to changes in leadership. The board then extended Executive Vice President Ramsier’s term until June 2020 as Chief Administrative Officer (CDO). The board discontinued the title of Provost, which will necessitate many document and marketing changes.

Interim President Green stated this was a next phase in getting ready for the search for a new chief academic officer. Up until this point, the notion of chief academic officer has only been an idea on paper. Chand Midha stepped up to take on the role as chief academic officer (CAO). Chief administrative officer and chief academic officer. The positions were defined by various duties including academic scheduling, coordinating, hiring, tenure, etc. The new strategic planning process was taken into account in crafting these duties. The CDO will deal with enrollment, contract negotiation, HLC, grievance, compliance with rules, contracts, and financial matters.

Interim President Green noted they are still sorting out duties and responsibilities and untangling these items. For example, the word Provost appears over 152 times in the CBA. CAO Midha should be contacted with regard to all academic matters. CDO Ramsier should be contacted with regard to student matters, HLC issues, and other administrative type issues.

Interim President Green asked for patience while the details are actually worked out.

Chair Saliga commented that the Presidential Search Committee has not met at all and thus does not believe that it is fair to state that it is going well.

Senator Miller asked why the board eliminated the word provost.

Interim President Green responded that he did not know.

APC Chair Klein asked how much was being payed to the search firm and noted that NPR stated that Kent payed over $100,000 for a search.
Interim President Green estimated that it was likely similar to Kent, although it was only speculation since he has not been involved in the search. He commented that a search firm has not been contracted for the CAO position.

Celeste Cook answered the search price was $140,000 chosen through competitive bidding.

Senator Sterns asked about low enrollment in the summer and what was being done to enhance enrollment.

Interim President Green explained students have been contacted to encourage them to enroll in the summer. Historically, most efforts have not proved fruitful. It may be that there are problems with our efforts or that the student body has changed.

Senator Schulze asked why such significant changes were made to the administrative structure without fully allocating the duties.

Interim President Green stated the board could answer that question.

Senator Shott noted that the chief academic officer (CAO) should have greater authority than the chief administrative officer (CDO). Why not keep the term provost, eliminate the need for scrubbing all the materials, and create another title that reports to the provost regarding administrative matters?

Interim President Green thought the goal was to create two equal positions. The board made the decision with regard to the roles and now it is up to the administration to sort out the fine print.

VII. Remarks of the Interim Executive Vice President and Chief Academic Officer

Chief Academic Officer (CAO) Midha shared his appreciation for the opportunity to step into this newly defined role. He assured the body that he would strive every day to live up to expectations and sees, as his primary duty, to work with faculty and the academic leadership team to achieve progress collectively on the university’s most important goals: student centered learning and the enhancement of knowledge. CAO Midha has served the university for 35 years and worked with eight different provosts. He committed to data driven decisions and through collaboration, would stabilize the position to help recruit the next CAO. He pledged to work for the good of the University of Akron.

Senator Sterns congratulated CAO Midha and asked for clarification with regard to how these two roles will work together when it comes to things like funding faculty lines.

CAO Midha discussed position requests and situated these discussions within the Council of Deans. He stated duties were assigned by the president and then other items were identified. Continued discussion on some items will be required.

Senator Schulze asked whether or not there would be plans to find an associate provost.

CAO Midha planned to remain in Leigh Hall. He requested that Joe Wilder serve as interim associate academic officer. He was unsure how other associate provost positions will be renamed.

Senator Evans expressed concern that it is atypical for a chief academic officer to also be the dean of research and wondered how the CAO will manage these dual roles.

CAO Midha shared that it was a learning curve, and the duties are still in progress. The structure is different in different schools. At some schools there is a separate office and in others there is an associate provost. He reiterated the duties of the positions are not yet clear.

Senator Evans asked if there will be a chief academic officer for research.

CAO Midha acknowledged that many of these questions could not be answered yet.

Senator Sahl asked if there was a plan to add new administrative lines.

CAO Midha defined the situation as one of redistributing roles and duties rather than one which would necessitate new positions.

Senator Schulze asked if accreditation is an academic issue.
CAO Midha stated that accreditation takes place at the department level and is a part of the academic mission of each department.

Senator Schulze asked with whom will the cite visitors meet.

CAO Midha stated that the president will assign those duties and that they will evolve as things get sorted out.

Chair Saliga stated that according to the resolution is should be the chief academic officer.

VIII. Committee Reports

A. Curriculum Review Committee—Chair Saliga

Chair Saliga presented a motion to approve the curriculum proposals (Appendix A) sent with the agenda. The motion carries. Chair Saliga noted that the curriculum proposal system will be up and running.

Senator Randby asked about all the current proposals that have not been approved yet.

Chair Saliga stated that many proposals have been approved and Senate EC will work with those. CRC’s last official meeting was May 1. Chair Saliga hoped that CRC would try to approve any proposals that have no discussion. Items that are stuck in the college or in originator review will need to be submitted to the new system.

APC Chair Klein clarified that some that were in originator view were there for an unclear reason and that they needed to simply be cleared.

Chair Saliga will try to help things along by using them as training.

Senator Makki asked if current proposals will be archived.

Chair Saliga said that they would.
B. General Education Advisory Committee—Janet Bean

Chair Saliga presented two proposals for fast track (Appendix B). The motion carries.

C. Computing and Communications Technology Committee—Senator Randby

Senator Randby noted that faculty in the College of Education were told that they could not teach online unless they were in the US (Appendix C). In CHP, faculty were told they could not teach unless they were on campus. Senator Randby argued these rules do not relate to security or safety concerns and forbid a variety of valuable teaching and learning experiences. He stated the University does not need rules that restrict faculty unless those rules are for legitimate cybersecurity reasons. He described the use of non-registered VPN’s as a rule does need to be in place for security reasons. The committee will look into these policies in fall and members that are cybersecurity experts will weigh in.

F. Academic Policies Committee—Janet Klein

Chair Klein read the name change vote (Appendix D). The motion carries.

Senator Sahl expressed confusion by the word corrosion.

Senator Evans stated that the name change reflects the offerings.

APC Chair Klein reads the APC report.

G. Ad-Hoc Tiger Team—Senator Schulze

Senator Schulze reported that the Tiger Team will meet on May 8th. The two senate representatives are Heather Howley and Katie Cerrone.

IX. Report of the University Council Representatives - Senators Evans

Chair Saliga stated business as usual.
X. Report of the Graduate Council Representatives—Senators Soucek and Tessier

Senator Tessier mentioned that the annual grad. faculty meeting was held on April 22. Senator Soucek gave an update on grad faculty. Minutes will be posted.

XI. Unfinished Business

A. Senate bylaws—Chair Saliga asked for further discussion of the bylaws and discussed the changes (Appendix E). She noted that changes may need to be made to the bylaws with regard to the name changes. Passed without dissent.

XII. New Business

None

XIII. Good of the Order

Senator Schulze invited AAUP members to the Lockview at 5:00 for fellowship.

Senator Sterns thanked the body as this will be his last year of service.

XIV Adjournment

The meeting was adjourned at 4:14 pm.

—Heather Howley, Secretary.

Date:  April 25, 2019
RE:    Fast Track Courses for Approval

GEAC has approved the following courses and submit them to Faculty Senate for approval. We have verified that departments have approved these as General Education courses through a faculty vote.

3370:137. Earth's Atmosphere & Weather (1 Credit) Natural Science, non-lab
4300:490 Senior Design in Civil Engineering (3 credits) Complex Systems
APPENDIX C

Computing & Communications Technologies Committee

Subject: Computing & Communications Technologies Committee meeting report

The CCTC met on Thursday, April 25, 2019.

Given that it will soon be cost prohibitive to support paper-based student evaluations of teaching, the committee agreed that a report and resolution should be presented to the Faculty Senate next year supporting using only online evaluations. The report will contain best practices for obtaining good response rates from students.

The Cisco WebEx agreement ends next spring. IT wishes to work with the CCTC to decide which web conferencing solution(s) the university should support after the WebEx agreement ends. The committee will work on devising criteria for a web conferencing tool starting early in the fall semester. The committee will consult with faculty, IT, and others.

Some faculty have been told they cannot teach online if they are not physically present in the U.S. The committee will examine this issue next year to determine the actual policy if there is one.

The university should support the use of open source software. The committee will examine the issue next year with the goal of devising a recommendation to IT regarding the support and use of open source software in the academic side of the university.

Report of the Academic Policies Committee to Faculty Senate
May 2, 2019

Name change of the Department of Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering
APC approves the change of the name of the Department of Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering to the Department of Chemical, Biomolecular, and Corrosion Engineering. The vote in favor of changing the name was unanimous by departmental faculty.

APC statement regarding VSRP and presidential search ad
The Academic Policies Committee is gravely concerned about the implications of who was targeted by the VSRP buyout, as they relate to the academic direction the University of Akron appears to be taking, without faculty input through proper channels. The terms of the buyout offer also affect the current and future curriculum. APC is equally concerned that the buyout offer, along with the advertisement for the future president of the university, reflect a vision of our academic institution that has not been shared openly or approved by faculty through shared governance.

In the presidential search advertisement, the opening line is prominent: “As a STEM-intensive institution…” Prior to this ad, faculty did not know (or contribute to the idea) that UA was a STEM-intensive institution.

Together, the VSRP offer and presidential search advertisement show a pattern of administrative decree that affects the academic and curricular direction of the university without proper faculty involvement, and a vision of the institution that has not been openly shared. The increasing centralization of hiring authority shifting to the central administration and away from colleges themselves is an indicator of lack of commitment to shared governance.

The fact that VSRP was not offered to faculty in certain units indicates a preference by the administration to see only particular (mostly STEM) areas grow, or at least not shrink further. If many faculty in the newly deemed non-essential programs leave, this exodus of experienced faculty has the potential to result in a reduction of the quality of education received not just by students in majors in these fields but by ALL students. Students could find that they are not able to graduate according to their previous timelines. Students may find that classes they need are no longer available. Students may find that the rigorous liberal-arts education, which is the underpinning of any credible university, is dead. After all, a university education is based on the input and offerings from multiple areas of study—whether theoretical, geographical, or disciplinary.

The point of the buyouts was ostensibly to save costs and to bring the university to solvency. The path to solvency for an ACADEMIC INSTITUTION is not cutting faculty or academic programs. These are, after all, the “bread and butter” of enrollment—something the University seeks to enhance. In making hasty cuts and curricular decisions by fiat rather than through shared governance, the university is already damaging its future enrollment, as students and their families see UA as unstable. They simply don’t know what the university will offer them or will take from their table.

Shared governance is not the only thing at stake. We need to consider enrollment and retention. We also need to respect the trust that the wider Akron community has in us.
